

MICHAEL PORRECA TO BE PRESENTED MORRIS HERSHSON AWARD OF MERIT

Chicago, Illinois July 27, 2017

It is with great pleasure that we announce Mike Porreca, COO of NCG, LLC, is to be the recipient of the 2017 Morris Hershson Award of Merit. Created in 1986, the Morris Hershson Award is presented to an individual for distinguished and long-standing service to the container reconditioning industry. Mike is truly deserving of the reconditioning industry's highest honor. His extensive knowledge of process flow and machinery design for the industry has made him a globally recognized expert.

He began his career in the industrial container reconditioning world at Acme Barrel in 1982 as an Assistant OH plant manager. Over the years he served as manager for OH, TH and Maintenance departments before settling in as Head of Operations for Acme. As the company grew through acquisitions and mergers, Mike became COO the reconditioning divisions of PalEx and Ifco. After the sale to ICS, Mike stayed on as COO before moving to NCG in 2001 where he oversees the operations of 41 NCG facilities worldwide.

We are very proud that Mike continues the legacy for our company that began with Elliot Pearlman winning the very same award in 2001 and Frits Janus winning the First International Morris Hershson Award of Merit in 2013.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Mike on not only this award but his outstanding contributions to our industry.
